Pays Interest

on Deposits

THOS. J. ADAMS PROPRIETOR.

WHEN MIDIA SINGS.

When Midia sings, for many a mile The feathered flocks forsake the skie And, stooping earthwards for awhile, Hush all their liquid narmonies; And lightly borne on lissome wings, Listen and learn, when Midia sings.

When Midia sings, the river stays
His own inimitable song,
And loiters down the watery ways,
And lurks and lists the reeds among, And lulis the myriad murmurings Of his old march, when Midia sings.

But there be goodly songs unsung, And music lingers in a thrill; Wherefore it is my dull heart rings,

ELSIE'S APTITUDE.

How a Bevy of College Girls Taught Self-Help to a "Chum in Distress."

BY ISABELLA M. ANDREWS.

Pretty Kitty Kenyon, with a bag of books in one hand and a box of candy in the other, ran through the halls of one of the "overflow" dormitories of Finlay college, gave a peculiar knock like with nobody to smell, taste, touch, at several carefully selected doors, tossed among the peaceful occupants a bombshell in the startling runouncement, "Council of War in Sparrow's Nest. Two o'Clock Sharp!" and van-presiding with great dignity.

"You have been called together, most trying case. O girls!" she went on, and this was as long as Kitty's dignity usually lasted, "Elsie's father has lost all his money, and she thinks she will have to leave college! Now enough to think of any way she can earn some money and stay?"

There were cries of sympathy and distress all around the room, and Elsie, with tears flowing again, and her with questions and commiseration, began to feel some consolation for her great and glorious to help things out tune is made. at home," she said at length. "If I leads'-no, that isn't what I meancould, I wouldn't mind leaving college so much; but Grace is at home, and quoted Mabel. mamma is going to send our old Ellen away-and she's been with us ever freshman spread. It was a great mcsince I can remember-and mamma cess, though quite as simple as the and Grace are going to get on alone. college spreads usually were, but it So I'm not really needed. Mamma was full of novelties and surprises, for

When Midia sings, the glad gales hush Their fearsome shrilling o'er the floods; No more they harp on reed and rush, No more they whisper through the woods, Idle and mute their fronded strings, In branch and brake, when Midia sings.

> When Midia sings, earth's every tongue Is dumb before her larger skill, Most musical, when Midia sings.
> —Pall Mall Gazette.

"Glorious!" "Just the thing!"

"Bravo!" from everybody at once.

see or hear." Elsie still looked doubtful. "Do you think I could make anything at it?" she said, hesitatingly. "I know I can do all those things. It's my one ished amid a shower of questions, ex- gift; but there doesn't seem to be the clamations, reproaches and appeals for usual 'long-felt want.' "

"Oh, yes, there is," said Mary, posi-It was half-past one then, and two o'clock saw a dozen girls, respectfully freshment committee for the freshman "I'm chairman of the recurious over Elsie Sparrow's reddened spread, and every single girl on that eyes, assembled for the council, Kitty committee has privately grouned to me that she didn't see how she could find a minute to give it. I'll call that ladies," she began impressively, "for committee together tomorrow morning, purposes of consultation and aid in a and I'm sure it will be the greatest relief in the world to put the whole thing into your hands if you will take

"It happens just right, too," Mary hurried on, "for we can make this the question is, Aren'tany of us bright your debut, Elsie dear, and I prophesy that orders will pour in upon you. Frances Cox has a little 'at home' the week after for those friends of hers that came this year, and you know she has loads of money and hates to Mary and Mabel and Edith and Alice work. And then there's the senior and Kitty and Gertrude all besieging reception to the sophomores and by and by the freshman reception to the classes that have entertained them and troubles in the importance they any number of little ones coming along all the time. And think of commence-"It isn't as if I could do anything ment! Oh, yes, my dear! Your for-'The path of glory

" 'Victory calls you; on, be ready!'

Elsie lay awake nights planning the Howard's advice. I am to set sail for myself as caterer and decorator! Mrs. Howard has always lived in the city and has a great many friends there, and she says she knows there is an opening all ready for me.

"Of course I can come out here, too! and I shall hope to keep my patrons here. So there's my long-dreamed-of career cut and dried! Now wish me luck before we say good by, and be sure to remember me when you are preparing for your weddings and

Success came none too quickly nor too easily, but it came. And perhaps the best success lay not in the career itself, but in the lesson it taught her that if she couldn't do a thing in one way she could in another; that a special talent is too precious a sign of the niche we are meant to fill to be lightly disregarded; and that, in good old Herbert's words:

Who sweeps a room as for Thy laws -Youth's Companion.

"BROTHER OF THE GIRLS."

The Power of Enduring Pain Shown by the Sondanese Is Incredible. The power of enduring pain exhibited by the Nubians of the Soudan is almost incredible. This is strongly instanced in the competition by the youths of the villages for the championship of their camps.

It is a much coveted honor to be called "Akho Benat" (the brother of the girls), and the youth who attains this distinction is entitled to marry the belle. The competition itself is a most agonizing spectacle. It commences by the maidens, on certain festivals, beating the drums to a quaint and peculiar tune, which so excites the spirits of the young men that numbers of them at once rush into the arena, each loudly exclaiming, "I am the brother of the girls! I am the brother of the

They are then paired off by casting lots, and, when stripped to the waist, a powerful, flexible whip of hippopotamus-hide, five feet in length, is placed in the hand of each combatant, and a'. a certain signal a flogging-match cor-

The strokes are not given at random or in haste, but with the utmost deliberation, each youth delivering his blow in turn, and keeping time to the music. The long, pliant lash descends with keen precision cutting deep into tue flesh at every stroke, while the monotonous "hwit," "hwit," "hwit," goes on unceasingly, and the red streams tell the tale of suffering which the tongues disdain to proclaim. At last the one who can endure no longer falls fainting t . the ground, and is

A TRIP TO ILOILO. Impressions of the First American to Visit the Philippine Sea-

EDGEFIELD, S. C., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 15, 1899.

John F. Bass, the Philippine cor- | and coolness. They are very sore berespondent of Harper's Weekly, was cause an American ship was not sent natives do not appear to be deceived the first American, since the war broke out, to visit Iloilo, and his observations there are of especial interest, since they have been so completely verified by what has happened within the last few weeks. Iloilo is the second important seaport in the Philippines. The island was surrendered by General Rios to the insurgents, who took possession of the city on the 26th of December. General Otis had sent Colonel Potter on a fast vessel to communicate with the Spanish General, and to notify him of the completion of the treaty, and of the fact that his Government had ceded the island to the United States. When Colonel Potter reached Hoilo he found Aguinaldo's flag flying. This Jact naturally complicates the situation in the Philippines, and makes the insurgents all the more insistent upon the independence of the archipelago, and the recognition of the independence of their Government. There is some suspicion, given expression to by Gen eral Merritt, of bad faith on the par of General Rios; and it may be that he might have held on until United States troops reached Panay, theisland of which iloilo is the port, to relieve him and his force. The news of the surrender of Iloilo reached this country on the same day on which the news came of the resignation of Aguinaldo's milder cabinet, to be re-

States, than the old cabinet was. In his last letter to Harper's Weskly Mr. Bass describes his trip from Manila to Iloilo. He says:

placed by a cabinet very much more hostile to the United States, and to control of the islands by the United

SAN PRORO STREET AT THE CEMETERY, TLOILO.

At last the low tin roofs of Police appeared through the rays of sun that pierced a heavy squall ahead, the the narrow channel netween the down to take Iloilo. A single ship could easily have done it. The re- for, as far as we were able to learn, sult is that business is nearly at a the natives would welcome an Ameristandstill, even now that the war is can government enthusiastically. The over. Every day a new story comes to | inhabitants of the island of Panay are hand of sugar plantations destroyed, not on friendly terms with those of and the owners either killed or taken Luzon, and at heart they do not like prisoners. In the islands of Panay the idea of being governed by Tagalos and Cebu, two of the richest in the from Luzon. country, hundreds of thousands of If the United States take Luzon.

oned their own disgrace.

When our arrival became known the whole tone of the press changed, and port Which Ranks Next in Importance to Manila. complimentary notices of our presence appeared in all of the papers. The by the bombastic untruths of the press,

RUE ROYALE, THE MAIN STREET OF ILOILO.

dollars' worth of property has been and leave the rest of the islands to destroyed, and all business with the interior is impossible. Iloilo, at present, although quiet to all appearances, is really like a quiet | We shall come into conflict with the volcano, boiling underneath, but revolutionists in Luzon, who will unready at any moment to break out into active revolution. The Catapunin the insurrection in other islands. We Society has already organized the na- shall be in constant trouble with intives into a potential army. One of competent and dishonest Spanish offithe servants of our host was a lieu- cials. It will be the Cuban affair over the meantime the revolutionists in the Spanish troops gradually back to Iiilo. The town is very badly de- not to take any of the islands than to fended. There are no fortifications take Luzon alone. about it. An old fort without any guns squats helplessly on a small promontory in the harbor. There are only some eight hundred Spanish troops are all native born, and are doubtedly send out expeditions to help tenant in the mysterious army. In again. Only this time we shall be far from our base of supplies, and foreign interior of the island are driving the intervention is likely to be much more vigorous. It would be much better We wanted to visit other places in Spain, we shall find ourselves obliged either to help Spain suppress the revolution or allow foreign interference.

the islands, but the "manana" policy of the General prevented our doing so, and we found ourselves obliged to resoldiers on the island; the rest of the turn to Manila. We could not even leave Iloilo without permission from nudoubtedly involved with the revolu- the General. He granted the permisgreen hills in the distance framing tionists. As yet the revolutionists in the nerrow channel petween the island to get rid the nerrow channel petween the island to get rid the nerrow channel petween the island to get rid the troublesome Americanos. WEBS OF MEMORY.

till now than that which the Yankees have assisted in against these islands?

To this date they will not call its best people allies. Of their future hap the Filipinos cannot complain. They have fash-Woven in the Flickering Light of the Domestic Fireside. "Mildred!" It was the young wife's name which was called, and the husband was sitting in the cozy front parlor of their happy little home, reading by the soft light of the flickering gas burner, and resting his slippered feet upon the burnished brass fender in front of a glowing fire of rosy embers.

"Mildred!" he called again, as when a lover he breathed her name, the sweetest in all the world to him. But there was no answer.

"Ah!" he murmured, "the dear girl does not hear her husband's voice,' and he lay back in his easy chair and watched the blue flames dance in and out among the sparkling coals. At such a time memory weaves cunning webs of softened colors and sweet designs, and the young husband's thoughts flew backward and forward in the loom of the past. Three years ago he had been a mother's petted darling, with no wish ungratified, no comfort neglected, no luxury forgotten. Yet he felt within his heart a tender longing, an empty void, which so far in his lappy life had remained unfilled. Mildred Ray came, and the mother's heart knew that the wife was greater than the A year passed and Mildred was his wife. Gentle, le ring, beautiful, he took her to their new home, and for two years she had filled his mother's place, and made his home a beautiful ideal, a four-walled paradise upon earth, yet far above it. He was serenely happy and peacefully comfortable. Mildred had given him her thought, her energy, her time, her endeavor-and he was at rest. He awoke from his reverie with a start "Mildred!"

No answer.

He became alarmed. Was it, then. all a dream? And was he to be rudely Alas, for the mutability of human

"Mildred!" he called for the fourth

"Yes, Henry," came the sweet-voiced answer from a so a in the cor-

"Oh!" he said, in a tone of relief. "Are you there, darling?"

"Yes, hubbie mine."
"Well, love, the fire is going out; won't you go and get some more coal?' "Not much, petsey! I've been doing the loving-wife slave business long enough, and if you want any more coal you'll have to get it your-ing a few webs itself while that fire was slowly getting cold.-Cincinnati he ever done? Tpecac Bill-Eifteen dried ment, cooked with tomatoes served with the small red Spanish sausage known as "butafarra Cata-

"Chile con carne," which everybody eats, is nothing more than a thick stew of beef (carne) and beans seasoned with chiles. Spanish "tortillas" are corn cakes flavored with red peppers, and differ from the Mexi-

A salad a la Espanola is prepared

The Spanish soups are, as a rule, a little too heavy for the American taste, which runs more toward consomme.

They are thick decoctions, full of vegetables, and look frightfully reasy. Soup, however, does not have the important role among the Spaniards that it plays in French domestic economy, and is an article of secondary importance. - New Orleans

Not Married Yet.

I rode up to a country store, where young girl stood on the porch swinging a sunbonnet and talking to a mountaineer. I had left her in that position a year before and her father had told me then his daughter and the mountaineer would soon be married.

Talking to her father a few minutes

"Is your daughter married yet?"

"Naw, an' I don't reckon she will

"What is the trouble? I saw her

"Yaas-she don't do much else.

Thet feller ain' no 'count. 'He's been courtin' fer three y'ar, an' axed Sal ter marry 'im a y'ar ago. I tol' him

ter clean out an' s'posed he'd 'lope with her. I tol' Sal she could hev my bes' hoss ter run away with, but he never did make no propersition. I ain' goin' ter the expense o' no wed-din' fixin's, an' it looks like he wan't goin' ter run off with her, so it jes' stan's thar. I ain' goin' ter hev no home weddin'; kain't afford no sich nonsense; an' I've hed six gals run off them from behind a tree. - Washing-talking to her lover just now."

French dressing it is very good.

regetables.

Times-Democrat.

later, I asked:

tywation."

lina." A similar sausage, only black, s known as "butafarra Astoriana."

A SNOW POME.

VOL. LXIV. NO. 11.

Th' other fellows at school liked snow when it came,
An' uster look through the window, as if They couldn't wait to get out.
But I thought it only made mud, like rain,
An' I never liked it a bit
An' didn't see nothin' to mak' a fuss

Then wasn't long afterwards when it came thick

That chores got more crowdin', as if
A felier didn't want no time hisself:
An' ever'thing had to be fed so allifred quick Else you wouldn't get time to sit Long 'nough to dry your boots on the Face washin' I just hate, or any them

games,
But Sis she liked 'um, and talked as if They was mighty more'n what they look.
She says: "Oh! be-autiful snow," same's
She says 'bout "spring" or "Hebron's Clift"
What she'd read out Rose Hart's poetry

Rain's bad 'nough in summer, when you get wet, But, then it's warm and makes you feel as

You don't have to wash or anything; But snow's too cold and slushy, and, worst yet, Can't go nowheres but what, biff!

ring.

—Frederick Lincoln, in The Criterion.

HUMOROUS. "Is he a practising physician?"

"Yes; practising economy. "Talk about a horse! My wheel saved my life last week." "How?" "I sold it and bought winter flannels."

"Telephone girls ought to make good wives." "Why?" "They get in the habit of not speaking unless "Ah, Bosser may be a bad shot, but to keep the game alive." "Mother," asked little Johnny,

"Dr. Jigsaw is the only man on our street who doesn't clear the snow from his sidewalk?" "He knows the commercial value of wet feet.' "Ah! If our youthful ideals could but be realized !" "If they could, we would be circus actors, truck drivers or pirates, the most of us." Near-Sighted Lady - There goes Mrs. De Style in her new tailor-made Jack Bass would raise garden sass, His wife she would raise chickens; Betwirt the two, ere they got through They simply raised the dickens.

Tourist-You say he is one of your most prominent citizens. What has could get a school now, which is un- rangements in the private nome that likely; and my tuition paid through had been kindly offered for the even-a student has actually entered col- in her secret how to keep the ball lege," said Gertrude Miller gloomily, quoting from the catalogue. "Each with her hand on the pulse of the student will provide herself with four party, although the party knew it not. sheets, two pairs of pillow-cases, six Then Chairman Mary, full of unselfish

"She isn't gone yet," said Kitty, not have been more auspicious. hopefully. "Go on, Elsie. Real ladies will not interrupt. All others re-came," continued Elsie, obediently, 'and I had no idea of doing anything but packing my trunk and going

"And leave us!" . "And leave the class of '95!" "O Elsie!" chorused the various sopranos, regardless of Kittv's threatening eye. "But Kitty said, couldn't I stay if I could pay my own expenses, and I said I supposed I could, if I could write a book or marry a lord, which would be better. But she thought those were both impracticable, and if I can only stay and graduate I know I can teach next year. So that's what Kitty called you in for."

"What?" came the soprano chorus. "Why, to see how she could pay her own expenses, of course," explained Kitty, briskly.

through Vassar by mending and sewing for other girls," suggested Mabel Ransom, hesitatingly. Then Elsie joined the general laugh and said, "That's very helpful to a poor incompetent who can barely sew on a shoe button and who quails in abject

"I read once of a girl that went despair before a three-cornered tear. Try again, somebody."

"Well, is there anything you can do, Elsie?" persisted Mabel, undaunted-

"Because-" ly. "Because—"
"That isn't the way to begin," exclaimed Kitty, with sudden inspiration. "Let's take all the occupations we can possibly think of in alphabetical order and see which one she fits. Of course there is something she can do, Mabel. Don't be so discouraging. A stands for architect-at least it did on my blocks. Elsie, can you build?"

"I did decide to be a carpenter once when I was a little girl," said Elsie, rather forlornly, "and I made a before they all parted, she entertained

"My mind won't work alphabetical-Sparrow's Nest. ly," said Edith Caldwell. "I haven't thought of anything but singing and sweeping and tinkering and painting and tutoring and weaving and fruitraising and other things at the tail end of the alphabet. I move we proceed to miscellaneous suggestions.

"What geese we all are," broke in the year that the girls would be glad it before as my talent. weren't so expensive."

ing, had instructed the house servants " 'No tuition will be refunded after and privately-posted one or two friends towels, one napkin-ring, etc.' I hope enthusiasm, told the girls all about it year things will be refunded to you, while they were congratulating her on her success, and Elsic's debut could She had asked five dollars for her services over and above the cost of her materials, and she pai her rent "Well, girls, you can imagine I was and coal bills with more real satisfacperfectly crushed when the letter tion than she had ever felt before in her life. Then, to her surprise and delight-for she had been incredulous -orders began to come. Many of them were small, for very few of the college girls were rich; but every little helped, and her father and mother, sympathizing with her brave efforts > tuition for the second half year. Then one of the professors' wives engaged her help for a series of afternoon receptions, and one or two others did the same, for Elsie had been a great favorite, and the girls generously trumpeted her fame in season and out of season. By and by she found herself the fashion and was as busy and happy and important as could be.

to help herself, managed to pay her

She began to enlarge her scale of work, arranged decorations and souvenirs, hired extra dishes and in short troubled the hostess for nothing but the number of her guests. Mrs. Banks gave her the use of her summer kitchen and gas stove and shared Elsie's prosperity, for she made delicious cake and through Elsie's influence received many an order for it. And when Elsie engaged her little girl to run on errands and assist her generally, the good woman's joy over the addition to her scanty income was complete. After commencement was over and the books were balanced Elsie found that she paid for her board, books, the dreaded "sundries" and a few clothes and had needed to ask for very little help from home. Her class standing was not so high as it would otherwise have been, but she had gained ten pounds in weight, beside an incalculable amount of experience and a "priceless pointer on her province," as she elegantly put it, when, the night chicken coop, but it wouldn't hold in her grandest style the girls who chickens, and I gave it up. Try B." had taken counsel together in the > Mary, as the happy originator of the plan, sat in the place of honor, and when Katie Banks, gorgeous to behold in cap and apron, had brought the coffee and finally disappeared, Elsie made her maiden speech. "I can never thank you enough girls," she said. "I couldn't have Mary Maynard, eagerly. "Doesn't B done it except for your help, both in stand for boiling and brewing and starting it and in supporting it, and baking, and C for cooking and candy now I want to tell you what it has led and catering and cake and cookies and | to, which is nothing more or less than chocolate, and don't we all know that an entire change of my plans for next Elsie is a born genius in all that kind year and the future. Mrs. Howard. of thing? Aren't her spreads always who gave me my first catering outside more magnificent than anybody's of the class work, has been talking to else, and doesn't she always make me and says I have a special gift for everything herself, and does anything this sort of thing and I ought to culeatable or drinkable ever dare to fail tivate it, and the small voice within under her magic touch? And isn't she me says she is right. My mind alan anthority on all such? Hear how the | ways misgave me about teaching, and subject inspires me, girls! Elsie, be I do feel myself absolute mistress of the college caterer, do! I'm sure 'vittles,' as Ellen says. Only it there are plenty of spreads all through seemed so common I never thought of because he had just applied for a pa-

to be relieved of if the city caterers "But I am going to throw conven- made public until it had been protionality to the winds and follow Mrs. | tected by the patent.

QUAINT AND CURIOUS.

The ancient Egyptians and Assyrians used paint to make their eye-

The tomb of Mohammed is covered with diamonds, sapphires and rubies, valued at $12,500,000. The largest Bible in the world is a manuscript Hebrew Bible in the Vatican, weighing 320 pounds. New Zealand has a law in force compelling every intoxicated man to have his photograph taken. His picture is then distributed among barkeepers and innkeepers, and they must refuse to sell him liquor. Edible snails flourish in Wurtemberg. One town, Gutenburg, received the other day an order from Paris for 1,000,000 of them. The price paid was $2 per thousand. The salt mines of Wiellezka, near Cracow, Poland, were mentioned in 1044, and have been worked since 1240. The first map of the ...ines was made in 1638 by Martin German, a Swedish mine surveyor. A Burmese doctor, when called to prescribe for a patient, just asks him to name the day and hour of his birth. If he was born in the morning on a Tuesday, he, of course, requires different treatment than would be given to a man who came into the world on Saturday evening, Lanterns of scraped horn were invented in England, it is said, by Alfred the Great; and it is supposed that horn was used for window lights also. as glass was not generally known at that early period. London was lighted by suspended lanterns with glass sides, about 1415.

Disrespect to the French Flag. According to a correspondent of the Gaulois the garrison at Toulon has just been treated to a remarkable spectacle. A soldier of the Eighth regiment of marines, under the influence of drink or discontent, or both. insulted the national flag. He was duly reported, and the matter was finally brought to the notice of the general, who saw the opportunity for a grand patriotic display. All the troops of the garrison were formed in hollow square on the parade ground, with the flag in the middle. Then the general called upon the luckless pioupion by name. He fell out of the ranks, marched to the flag, saluted it, and uttered a faltering apology. "It is well," exclaimed General Coronnat, "but if this man had not shown his repentance, one of the picked escort of the colors was ready, sword in hand, to give him a lesson."-London

ed before a large number of persons

Getting Rid of Friction.

A novel invention has been exhibit-by J. M. Alves, a Russian civil engineer in St. Petersburg. With this invention he proposes to revolutionize wheel locomotion. By attaching it to the wheels of any vehicle friction is reduced to the lowest possible limit. To the amazement of the spectators an ordinary horse easily drew a wagon loaded with two and a half tons of goods. The mechanism of this device was kept a secret, the wheels being covered with a wooden framework. This precaution on the part of the inventor, it was explained, was tent and did not wish his invention as the latter was always pleased to see all strangers who arrived in Holio. The request, although couched in most courteons form, was evidently an order. We were about to follow the captain, when the manager of the Hong-Kong Bank intervened, and, by judicious wire-pulling, gained us the time to eat a bite and wash up before we visited General Rios. The General we found a charming man, most profuse in his friendly professions and promises to expedite our further journey through the islands. These promises he never fulfilled; nor could treated most courteously, although regarded with suspicion. Iloilo, although the centre of the sugar business in the Philippines, does not possess a hotel, and we were obliged, nolens volens, to accept the

we blame him much, for we were the first Americans who had come to Ilcilo since the beginning of the war, and, considering our position, we were

GOVERNMENT HOUSE, ILOILO. plies of rifles and ammunition are be Mauser rifles. How unreliable the local press is will be seen by the following abstract, which appeared on the day of our arrival. This extract, which states that American soldiers are shooting down Spaniards and natives in the streets Manila whenever they please, shows the methods used to deceive the native

DO NOT EXCHANGE.

A NATIVE FAMILY IN ILOILO.

hospitality of the British colony-composed, by the way, with one excepwith a library (the only one in town, I am inclined to think), a billiard-room and card-room. There is also a tennis Guimaras. I was much impressed with the manner in which these style and "side."

tion, of Scotchmen. It seems that Scotchmen only are capable of doing business in a Spanish colony and re-maining sane. The drear monotony of Iloilo life is somewhat seasoned by this little body of Scotchmen. They have formed a delightful little club, life of those disgraced ones.

club and several summer houses at tous, and without their commission having other result than the sentence of the soldier immediately responsible. Scotchmen kept themselves up to the harmony with Spanish sentiments, is here requirements of civilized life. There was not one of them that did not pine with the unhappy natives of America whose race is on the verge of disappear. degenerated into the slovenly ways of ance. the natives, and are always smart, and

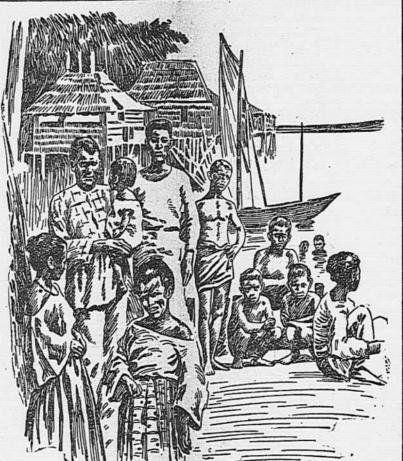

One of the Yankse personages of mos try to keep up a certain amount of They are all unanimous in their desire to have "Uncle Sam" take all of the islands, and on this topic alone the islands, and on this topic alone the islands, and on this topic alone the islands, and on the topic alone the islands, and is topic alone the islands are the Tagal race would require fifteen tendent of landscape gardening for the road, and attracted much attended to the islands, and is topic alone to the islands. The bird was five feet six said not many days ago that to exterminthey lose their native conservatism ception more horrible has been practiced inches in height.

by settled by the courts. The deed for which the heirs of ing sent down from Aguinaido's headquarters in Luzon, and before long the natives will be well armed with population about American govern-From travelers arriving yesterday from Manila we have heard of the conduct of the Yankees in that town toward the na-Fire-arms are used regularly for most insignificant cause, because for this there is a lack of justice. In direct disregard of orders, they point carbines at the face, and fire shots at the wisest and most able. They laugh at the nobility of the Spaniards, and say that the measures which we employ are big—and of little utility. Any Yankee soldier has the right to take the > Various shooting affrays carried to a head in the open street have been referred As is natural, this conduct, so little in ail know that it is the method employed

Jonathan Carver had been searching for years has been discovered at Chillicothe, Ohio, and the heirs claim it will establish their title to the great tract of land, including the counties of Ramsey and Washington in Minnesota, and the counties of Barron, Chippewa, Price, Taylor, Clark, Eau Claire, Dunn, St. Croix, Pierce, Pepin, Buffalo and parts of several others in Wisconsin. The story of Jonathan Carver's purchase from the Indians of the 10,000 miles of land in dispute is interesting and romantic. The deed, with the history of the transfer from Nawdanissie Indians is a matter of record at Chillicothe, being recorded on page 214, volume 36, of the Ross County deed records. It was found after years of patient searching in this country and England. Attor-

> the deed records in the General Land Office at Washington to find an entry of the document. - Milwaukee Sentinel. Germany and the Carolines. Any one seeking an insight into the ideas and aims of the German colonial party encounters at every turn the idea that Germany must expand over the sea since expansion in Europe is impossible. It is this determination that ustifies the frequent predictions by Herr Peters and others that Germany yet will secure the exclusive control of Samoa and the Carolines, even if the cost be war. The Kaiser himself recently has given forcible expression o the general colonial scheme, and the advocates of the acquisition of the

> neys for the heirs are now searching materially, not only to dominate the Pacific, but to secure supremacy in the commerce of the world. The islands, which recent dispatches say are to be sold to Germany as soon as the Cortes meets, embrace two chains, forming, as it were, a T-square -the Ladrones or Marianas and the Carolines, including under the latter

Carolines say that the possession of these islands will assist Germany the Pelews. -- Chicago Record. A Japanese Bride Tree. At the birth of a Japanese baby a tree is planted which must remain untouched until the marriage day of the child. When the nuptial hour arrives the tree is cut down and a skilled cabinetmaker transforms the wood into furniture, which is considered by the young couple as the most beautiful of all ornaments of the house.

A Marvel in Floriculture. This gigantic floral eagle and its pedestal adorned the Michigan Central Station grounds at Ypsilanti for a summer. They were designed and they are spoken to." that only proves he's a good fellow."

A FLORAL EAGLE. perfected by John Laidlaw, superin-

"How's that?" "Why, he's the boy peering in between two uncut leaves of the magazine, "how did they ever get the printing in there."

dress. Friend-You are mistaken, my dear. That is her husband.

Mildred's memory had been weav-

"You don't call me a brut more," he said tauntingly after Oil and pepper are the two things had refused to buy her a nev that especially characterize the Castil-

"You ought, like us, to have be red peppers and onions. "Tripa a la days in honor of your great in said the Russian beauty. "But in the Audaluza" is another preparation frequently seen. As the name indicates, American year," said the major, "there the basis is boiled tripe, which is are only three hundred and sixty-five cooked with beans and potatoes, and

> "Why, grandpa. when I was very little you used to tell me that you killed six Indians with one shot; then you cut it down to five; now you say it was four." "Well, well, my child. I suppose that's because my memory's failin' a little every year."

Neighbor-What beautiful hens you have, Mrs. Stuckup? Mrs. Stuckup -Yes, they are all imported fowls. can tortilla in that the latter, when Neighbor - You don't tell me so! I properly made, are rolled in chopped suppose they lay eggs every day? Mrs. Stuckup (proudly)-They could of lettuce and celery, with a few sliced tomatoes and peppers. Served with

Doing His Duty.

"There's one of the best men in our employ," stated a railroad official as he pointed out a man who looked like a hard-working farmer, relates the Detroit Free Press. "He has been promoted from time to time and we have the utmost confidence in him. He came to us when he was as verdant as his rural surroundings. We built a little way station on our line, up in the northern part of the state, and put him in charge, because some of the most substantial citizens told us he was a good man for the place. I happened to be the one to give him his instructions, telling him, among other things, that it was a flag station, that the train would only stop when there wanted the engineer to pull up there. "The first day he was on the through passenger train was behind time and going for all it was worth. But there was the flag and there was nothing to do but to stop, the heavy train reaching the platform with all breaks set passengers. But our new agent was the only person in sight. " 'Where are those people that want to get on?' roared the conductor. " 'They ain't none.' "What in thunder did you stop this train for, then?'

an' git married, and that feller don't seem to hev no appreciation of the sit-As I left the girl was still talking to Partly Blinded by an Eel. her lover, while the old man watched Words Used by Writers. A statistician in Paris has had the patience to count the number of words employed by the most celebrated writers. The works of Corneille do not contain more than 7000 different words and those of Moliere 8000. Shakespeare, the most fertile and varied of English authors, wrote all his tragedies and comedies with 15,000 words; Voltaire and Goethe each employed 20,000. "Paradise Lost" contains only 8000, and in the Old Testament, he says, not more than 5642 different words are used.

"No," she replied. "The brutes lian cui ine. One of the favorite dishes been maligned too much already in Cuba is "tasajo," which is simply days."

do so if they saw proper, but our cir-cumstances are such that my hens are not required to lay eggs every day.

were persons to get off or on and that he must display the red flag when he and wheels sliding. "'All aboard!' yelled the conductor as he sprung off to hurry the expected

" 'I guessed maybe somebody would like fur to git off.' "We looked into it, but he only meant to do his duty and has been doing it ever since."

William Edgecomb, better known as Sailor Jack, has entirely lost the sight of one eye. Edgecome is a fisherman and lives at Bayside, N. J. One day last September he was skinning an eel when the fish gave a flop and struck him in one of his eyes, leaving some slime. Besides a smarting sensation he thought nothing whatever of it. but after a few days the tye began to hurt him and kept on getting so bad that he finally went to a physician. It was then thought a cataract was growing on the eye, it having that appearance, but later on it was learned that such was not the case, and that his sight failing so fast was caused by the roisonous slime from the eel -

Philadelphia Times.